

Biography

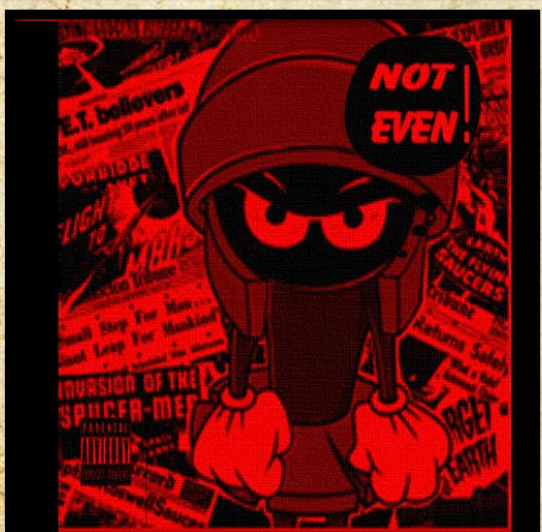

JaeRod tha Prince, born Jarrod Gainey, is an extremely talented and versatile musician from the United States. He has many alter-aliases including "Money Moon", "Prowler God", "J.Geezy", and "JG". His unique songwriting skills and ability to put together catchy and solid songs have already caught the attention of many and have reached tens of thousands of open ears from the roots of the streets and throughout the internet waves with audiences ranging from ages 3 years old to 60+. The self-proclaimed "Prince" claims to be part of the last of a dying breed in the game known as Hip Hop and has always had a heavy influence by music itself in general which has publicly displayed from all the way back singing and rapping songs on the playground and eventually evolved into recording, editing, and mixing tracks in the studio. JaeRod has always engulfed himself in music and keeps it an aspect of his everyday life. His music has been featured on many notable mixtapes such as Coast2Coast Mixtape Vol. 179, hosted by Project Pat, Coast2Coast Mixtape Vol. 189, hosted by 2Chainz aka Tity Boi and mixed by Bigga Rankin, and Amalgam Digital Presents: Amalgamation Mixtape Vol. 1 alongside French Montana, Joe Budden, Peedi Crack, Young Riot, Cory Gunz, etc.

Currently working to generate a strong buzz within the world so that his debut album (Ghetto Rock tha World) can be released with great initial support.
